- WHAT: Denver Rescue Mission acquired Fort Collins Rescue Mission (formerly known as Open Door Ministries) in November 2012. Having served the homeless in Northern Colorado for more than 20 years at Harvest Farm, the Mission now reaches out to people in Fort Collins seeking to achieve self-sufficiency in one of our long-term programs.
- WHERE: 316 Jefferson St., Fort Collins, CO 80524 | Phone: 970.224.4302
- WHO SERVED: Men, women and children experiencing homelessness in Fort Collins.
- PROGRAMS, SERVICES & CAPACITIES:
- Shelter: Fort Collins Rescue Mission can accommodate up to 80 men and women nightly.
- Meals: An average of 153 meals per day (breakfast and dinner only) are served in the dining room. Breakfast starts at 6:00 a.m., and dinner starts at 5:30 p.m.
- Chapel Services: Daily chapel and Sunday church services are offered for all. However, chapel attendance is not required in order to enjoy a meal or a bed. Local churches partner with Fort Collins Rescue Mission to provide chapel services to guests.
- New Life Program: Fort Collins Rescue Mission is an entry point for New Life rehabilitation program participants. Men who are committed to positive change in their lives can stage at the Mission before they join the long-term New Life Program at Harvest Farm.
- Re-entry Program: Fort Collins Rescue Mission offers a reentry program for women on parole. When someone is released on parole, their number one need is an official address, and Fort Collins Rescue Mission meets that need to allow these women to begin parole successfully, and start on the path to self-sufficiency.
